

Urbana/Champaign County Enterprise Zone 2023 Report

EZAB Meeting February 8, 2024

Stephany McMahon, Economic Development Supervisor

Background

The Urbana Enterprise Zone was established in January of 2016. The Enterprise Zone offers two main incentives for commercial and industrial development: sales tax exemption on eligible construction materials and property tax abatement on the assessed value of improvements. Property tax abatements are made possible through the participation of the following taxing bodies: City of Urbana, Urbana School District, Champaign County, Urbana Park District, CUMTD, Parkland College, and Cunningham Township. The Think Urbana program markets these incentives to low-density housing developments within the Enterprise Zone.

2023 Enterprise Zone Overview

In the calendar year 2023, 61 new Enterprise Zone projects commenced, with a total estimated project cost of $16.37 million (Figure 1)

Since the inception of the Enterprise Zone, there have been 302 projects totaling $209.73 million in private investment. As a result of these projects, there have been 695 new and retained jobs to Champaign County, and 682 residential units built or under construction. As of 2023, completed projects added almost $54.8 million in assessed value to the tax base (Figure 2).

New Commercial Project Highlights

Four commercial projects applied for Enterprise Zone Incentives including Stone Creek Commons renovation, 7 Brew new construction, Fasteners Etc warehouse addition, and the Little Hearts and Hands remodel of an existing office building into a new daycare and preschool facility. All projects received sales tax exemption on building materials and all but Stone Creek Commons, because their renovation costs were less than the minimum $100,000 investment, were eligible for property tax abatement.

The Hotel Royer, a $26 million project, began construction on July 1, 2021 but asked for a third extension in 2023 due to delays in building materials and supplies from the ongoing impact of the Covid 19 pandemic. An extension was granted by the Urbana City Council and the hotel now has an opening deadline of February 29, 2024. A fourth extension request has been received, though not yet voted on my council, as there are additional delays in construction.

In total, the four commercial projects applied for Enterprise Zone incentives in 2023 and have an estimated combined project cost of $2,080,122 million and will result in 28 full time and 20 part time new jobs with the most jobs projected to be created by Little Hearts & Hands expansion. (Figure 3).

Think Urbana Highlights

In 2023 there were (57) new residential Enterprise Zone projects for new single family homes. A complete list of all Urbana Enterprise Zone projects to date is shown on a map in Figure 4. A listing of all Enterprise Zone projects to date is shown in Figure 5.

The Think Urbana program has done extremely throughout its history but no more so than in the last three years. This year’s total of 57 homes is a drop from the highest performing year in 2022.

Urbana has invested in CivicServe, and will be rolling out this new software program to developers in early 2024. CivicServe is designed to administer Enterprise Zone projects and allows for developers and property owners to submit online applications, thereby reducing paper usage and staff time. The City believes CivicServe will also reduce errors as all data will be compiled within the program instead of multiple spreadsheets and an Access database.
